Chief Executive Officer Royster Tucker III said, “During 2018 we executed on our growth strategy of helping businesses digitally transform themselves and expanding the number of fiber-connected households and businesses. We launched several new solutions that help businesses thrive in the digital world and experienced continued success with our fiber expansion in the Piedmont Triad Region of North Carolina. We are pleased with our financial performance for the year.

“During 2018, business Internet and communications revenues grew by 5.7%. IT services and hardware revenues grew by 11.8%, driven by a 23.0% increase in telecom and IT equipment revenue and a 44.0% increase in professional services revenue. Residential Internet and entertainment revenue increased 6.8%, driven by a 16.8% increase in fiber-connected households.

“In 2019, our focus is to continue to execute on our strategy of revenue growth. In particular, we plan to continue our focus on growing the business services segment for both IT solutions and fiber-connected businesses. In addition, we plan to further expand and differentiate our residential fiber offerings to meet the increasing demands of our customers for premium Internet and entertainment services.”
