

Trusting your technology. The easiest decision you don't have to make.

Stay connected. Stay confident.

Your life runs at full-speed and so should your technology. Since most of us don't have a live-in IT department to fix our tech problems and answer our questions, NorthState has created a standard of care called Technology Assurance.

Technology Assurance is our promise to you. We make sure your technology runs smoothly on all your devices, all the time. There is never a question too big or a concern too small.

It starts with first-class installation. Our team will make sure you've got the tools you need to have a seamless, connected experience. You'll also get 24/7 top-tier product support for all of your devices and no-charge access to an additional suite of services designed to keep your family connected smoothly (and safely) to the internet.

Peace of mind comes standard. That's Technology Assurance.

We've got you covered.

As part of Technology Assurance, NorthState partners with SecurityCoverage® to offer premium technology support, and gives you access to the following services:
